B.S.A. SERVICE SHEETS.

FOREWORD.—These sheets, which are a new departure as far as we are concerned, will be issued periodically with the idea of establishing a direct link between you and us.

They will give information as to—

- (1) Points of difficulty met with in the Repair Shop, and the procedure and/or tools recommended.
- (2) Complaints and the best manner of dealing with them.
- (3) Details and prices of conversion parts for incorporating such improvements as have been found desirable.
- (4) Any information which it is in our mutual interests to distribute.

We ask that you in return for this, and in order to assist us in making the sheets as informative as possible, send in to us particulars of special difficulties met with and the manner in which you have been able to overcome them.

The number of these sheets available per issue will be strictly limited. Please therefore take great care of them, to which end we will supply you with a special folder so that they may be filed as received.

The folder, with its contents, should be hung up in your office or workshop, and thus be available for ready reference.

Please address all correspondence in connection with these Service Sheets to—
